Outdoor Drinking Alert: Watermark Bar Debuts on Pier 15

There's a new alfresco drinking spot at the Southern tip of Manhattan in the form of Watermark Bar, opening for business this coming holiday weekend. The two-level space is a short jaunt from the similar Beekman Beer Garden, which is run by the same team as this watering hole - the venue is part of the two-mile-long east river esplanade.

The large bar has indoor and outdoor areas that provide views of the nearby seaport, which visitors can soak up as they enjoy NY state craft beers and a menu of burgers and other pub grub. There's also a Cones Cafe on site that will serve ice cream for the kiddies who can't enjoy the brewskis just yet.
